FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ALT-ROCK BAND EVOLETT ANNOUNCES THE RELEASE OF THEIR DEBUT ALBUM FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION THROUGH END SOUNDS ON AUGUST 24

Los Angeles, CA, July 14, 2010 – Indie label End Sounds is bringing to life the vision Montgomery, AL's female fronted quintet, EVOLETT through the release of their debut album, For Your Consideration available on August 24. The bands unique name is based off the ancient tribal character of Evolet in the film 10,000 B.C., and their inspiration with a similar mission to bring enlightenment and musical life to the masses.

Produced by Andy Jackson (Hot Rod Circuit, Say Anything, Terrible Things, Death In The Park) and Mike Poorman (Piebald, Hot Rod Circuit, Therefore I Am), EVOLETT's ten anthemic, pop-infused, rock songs provide a stellar soundtrack to the summer. Their single, "The Compromise," is exactly that, working things through to the point of finding the middle ground. "We write music that we would want to listen to: loud and rockin' but emotional and with meaning. Everything's a compromise and that's reflected in the music and the title."

The group is powered by Haden Brightwell's signature vocals with support from Tyler Gates and Jonathan Flurry on guitar. Stephen Taunton (drums) and Russ Daly (bass) solidify EVOLETT's rhythm section, driving the band forward with passion, fervor, and faith. Musically, they draw inspiration from such esteemed musical groups as Underoath and Taking Back Sunday, but are already making their own impression as an admired and distinctive band. Easily summing up For Your Consideration, Brightwell wants fans to decipher the music for themselves stating, "Take it how you want. Each song can be looked at differently whether it's about love, hate, spirituality, friendship, family, or life in general. Just remember to grow from all these things to become something greater."

The Southern quintet has shared the stage with notable bands throughout their career, including NeverShoutNever, Cartel, Mayday Parade, VersaEmerge, and Hot Rod Circuit. Manager/Producer Andy Jackson brought EVOLETT to center stage by promoting their edgy and lyrical sound in the End Sounds Showcase at the 2010 SXSW Music Festival, which garnered much attention from the industry.

With "The Compromise" out and their album For Your Consideration soon to be released, EVOLETT is ready to prove they have what it takes. Immediately following the release of For Your Consideration they will head back into the wilds of endless touring, supporting their album, and spreading their sound to new listeners.
