FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SOME HEAR EXPLOSIONS KICK OFF FALL TOUR WITH LIGHTS OVER PARIS

SEPTEMBER TOUR TO SUPPORT DEBUT ALBUM AND FIRST SINGLE “IT’S OUR TIME NOW”

Los Angeles, CA, August 26, 2010 – SOME HEAR EXPLOSIONS, the collective team of ex-The Mercy Kiss guitarist/vocalist Bay Dariz and singer Ambre Leigh along with the combined rhythm section of Alex Gallner on bass and Joe Herrera on drums, has exploded onto the music scene with an innovative sound and a debut album entitled It’s Our Time Now. In support, the band will take their live act on the road, supporting Lights Over Paris.

It’s Our Time Now is continually gaining a footing amongst modern rock fans. The band was started when Dariz asked Leigh to write a song with him, knowing that she had never done so before and that she hadn’t sung publicly since she was a child. The resulting song “It’s Our Time Now” convinced the two to continue and after several months of writing, the one-time experiment became a full-fledged band. “I had no preconceived notions,” Dariz says. “When we wrote the first song, I didn’t even know if we were going to be a band. I just wanted to write a song with Ambre. There wasn’t some grand plan. Once we had a few songs, I realized it sounded like nothing I’d ever done before. Not only was I pushing myself in different musical directions, but Ambre and I have very different tastes in music. Where our sensibilities converge is what we sound like.” Dariz’s favorites include Bowie, Queen, Smashing Pumpkins, Remy Zero, and Bright Eyes. Leigh’s choice playlist would include IAMX, The Kills, Tom Waits, Jeff Buckley, and No Doubt.

The songs featured on their debut album vary from the call-to-arms opening track “Explode”, to the dark electro/pop kiss-off “Baby Won’t You (kiss my lips)”, to the gorgeous ballad “Amazing”. What manages to tie these songs together are Leigh’s unmistakable voice and melodies, which perfectly compliment her lyrics of personal struggle and sexual empowerment. Songs like “Hell A” and “Too Forgiving” chronicle the challenges of moving to Los Angeles and trying to succeed in life and in love.

SOME HEAR EXPLOSIONS have seen a significant amount of regional success since their inception. They were invited to perform at Milwaukee’s Summerfest in 2009 as part of the festival’s “Emerging Artists Series,” where they were voted onto a compilation CD by fans and widely distributed at the festival. The band has licensed several songs to feature films, including the upcoming The Lake Effect, and Pound of Flesh starring Malcolm McDowell. Their most important achievement, however, has been making music that pleases both themselves and their fans, whom they plan on meeting on their first national tour.

To help spearhead the band’s fan interaction, SOME HEAR EXPLOSIONS will be offering their first single, “It’s Our Time Now” as a free download for the length of the tour at: www.kelleemackpr.com/somehearexplosions/itsourtimenowdownload/. In addition the free download, the band will be giving away 10 tickets in each market through online contests.
